Water Board meeting report

By Elizabeth Cowley

The Monterey Peninsula Water Management District (MPWMD) held their monthly meeting on April 17 at the Monterey City Council chambers.

The MPWMD approved the consent calendar with the exception of Director Lou Haddad who opposed several items. Director Haddad opposed the expenditure of public funds to repair the irrigation equipment at MPWMD Carmel River restoration sites until the public votes on the New Los Padres Dam Project. In addition, Director Haddad opposed spending up to $72,000 of public funds for steelhead spawning habitat which will be created if the New Los Padres Dam Project is approved by the voters in the November election.

The General manager reported that water use is down 33% from the base water year of 1987-88. Only 17% of this savings is from residential users, the balances if from large scale irrigators such as golf courses and businesses.

The MPWMD Technical Advisory Committee has directed staff to complete a sample allocation of the water which would be available if the voters approve the New Los Padres Dam Project. MPWMD staff will employ the allocation formula developed for the defeated desalinization plant.

Several area realtors, chambers of commerce and businesses have approached the MPWMD and requested that they have more input and involvement in the decision making process. The MPWMD has agreed to put interested parties on the mailing list and inform them of upcoming meetings and issues.

Friends raised over $5500 for CV Library

In February, the Friends of the Carmel Valley Library raised over $5500 at their Night at the Old Buckeye Party. Those funds will be used to keep the Library open on Wednesdays.

Activities planned for later this year include coffeehouse evenings at the Library showcasing local musicians and local poets and authors reading their work.

The Friends meet the first Tuesday of each month at 5 p.m. at the Carmel Valley Library. All are welcome.

The Friends of the Carmel Valley Library donated $500 to the Carmel Valley Village Flood Relief Fund.

Valley Chamber meeting report

By Elizabeth Cowley

The Carmel Valley Chamber of Commerce (CVCC) Board of Directors held their monthly meeting on Thursday, April 20 at the Mid Carmel Valley Fire Station.

Pat Polie, CVCC Membership Committee Chair, reported the "ambassador program" worked well at the April 18 mixer at Bernardus Winery. CVCC "ambassadors" wore red ribbons at the mixer to identify themselves and were available to answer questions, provide introductions and generally help new and prospective members feel welcome.

Planning for the second annual Great Chili Cookoff is underway. The CVCC approved a motion to co-sponsor the event with the Carmel Valley Community Youth Center. Last year's Chili Cookoff was a success and, with the additional help of the Youth Center, the CVCC expects this year's Cookoff (which will be held in September) to be an even greater success.

The CVCC and the Carmel Business Association will hold a joint mixer at the Barnyard on July 13 from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. Nick Lombardo will speak about the Monterey County Travel and Tourism Alliance at the CVCC luncheon on May 25 at Rancho Canada.

The Monterey County Travel and Tourism Alliance is a recently established county-wide promoter of tourism and business which intends to open a staffed visitor's center at the Crossroads. The CVCC approved a motion to become a member of the Alliance.

CVCC Board member Candy Meyers reported that the Chamber is now advertising on the Internet. Light Systems Company has developed a program entitled "Virtual Destination" which allows Internet users to see pictures of and read about the destinations of their choice. Light Systems gives a "page" of space free to Chambers of Commerce and business owners can buy advertising "pages" under their geographical heading. Light Systems Company told the CVCC that there are over 30 million Internet users worldwide and that Internet usage is growing by 10% each month. Virtual Destination will provide information about Carmel Valley to users worldwide. The information will be translated into the languages of subscribing countries.

Randy Randazzo, CVCC Board member, reported that the Chamber will hold their annual Flea Market in conjunction with the History Society.

The CVCC voted to spend $1000 of Transitory Occupancy Tax (TOT) funds for a booth at the Sunset Travel Fair. The Fair will be held June 9 through 11 at the San Jose Conference Center. Last year's Travel Fair, sponsored by Sunset Magazine, drew over 22,000 people. The CVCC will staff the booth and provide the visitors with information about Carmel Valley and CVCC member business.

The Carmel Valley Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors meets every third Thursday at 5:30 p.m. at the Mid Carmel Valley Fire Department Community Room. The meeting is open to the public.

CHS celebrates Youth Service Day

Carmel High School, whose student council and staff promote an active community service program, will take part in National Youth Service Day 1995 on April 25.

The senior class will participate in this service day that has become an annual event. Activities planned include construction of rock water bars at Garland Park to be followed by a barbecue. The students working in teams will build water diversions on various trails in the park.

Last year, over 2,500 organizations from across the 50 states and the District of Columbia participated in National Youth Service Day.

Community Service Coordinator Jack Ellena says that "Carmel High School is part of the national celebration because we believe in the importance of organized youth service throughout America both as a way of giving youth an active stake in their community and as a way for communities to view young people as resources rather than problems.

FUN IN THE SUN

Dave Lyon

Okay, it's mid-April, right, and I'm like, sitting here watching it rain, right, and I'm like, looking out the window watching guys in a rowboat blowing by and I'm thinking to myself "hello...is it like, Spring yet?"

Any day now, right....? So we opened the Community Pool on April 5 for Spring Vacation, right, thinking, you know, time for those balmy days of April, leading into the warm, Endless Summer, right? Not! Because, of course, in keeping with the previous five months of non-stop drenching....it was still raining!!!

Di and the pool crew wish to extend their thanks to the few hearty, brave souls who came out for opening day, even though the weather felt more like an outing at Candlestick than an afternoon at Club Med. But...fear not...or, No Fear...the pool will be open...weather permitting...on weekends from noon til five from now until the end of the school year when it will switch to full-time operation!

Summer is coming...we promise! Yes, due to the overwhelming success of our most recent Membership Direct Mailing...the CVCYC has been able to purchase an extremely high quality Summer weather package, which includes day after day of warm, lazy afternoons, balmy evenings and perfect, fog-free sunsets! Start making those plans now to purchase your family or individual season swim pass or multi-swim cards, on sale now through the Community Youth Center.

Neato things to do at the pool this summer: swim lessons for the kids, mornings from 9 til noon. Recreational swim for the whole family, excluding your Golden Retrievers, from noon til five p.m. on weekdays, and noon til 7 p.m. on weekends. Springboard diving lessons for everyone, scuba classes for valley residents ages 12 and older, adult lap swim weekdays from 6-7 p.m. and ...rubber duck races throughout the season! Call the CVCYC office at 659-3983, weekdays from 9-5 for full info on any of these community pool events.

The Round-Up is coming! The Round-Up is coming! Prepare yourselves for the biggest, wildest, most country night of toe-tapping, thigh slapping, skirt swirling, western fun this town has seen since the end of the Randazzo/Wooden Indian wars back in 1893! Mark your calendars for Saturday, May 13, as the Carmel Valley Community Youth Center very proudly brings you an evening of live country dance music at Hidden Valley Music Seminars, featuring the popular local group, Strictly Country and the very talented Eight Second Ride. The fun starts at 6 that evening with a BBQ chicken and tri-tip dinner and continues til midnight with line dancing, a silent auction and no-host watering hole.

Tickets for this outstanding night of country western good times are $30 per person with the BBQ dinner and $15 per person for the dance only. The bar will be open to everyone, 21 and over, with your paid admission. Limited dinner seating available. Advanced ticket purchase is suggested. Send ticket requests to CVCYC, Box 124, Carmel Valley, 933924. Or simply call the Community Center at 659-3983 for complete info. Proceeds from this excellent night of food, live music, dancing and fun will benefit the programs and activities of your Community Center!

Our thanks to the valley folks who came out on April 8th for the opening of Hooper's Dance Hall, the new spot in town for dancing and hanging out with your friends and neighbors. Hoopers will return to the Community Hall again next month. Watch this space for more info.

Has the sticker-spotter seen your CVCYC sticker around town? On your car? On your bike? Stuck to your forehead? Those really cool Community Center membership stickers are popping up all over the village and if one of our spotters spies one on your vehicle or person, you could be eligible for neato prizes! CalTrans promises less noise from bridge construction

While some pile-driving still needs to be done, the noisiest and most unrelenting phase of the construction of the new Highway 1 Carmel River Bridge and road realignment south of Carmel is finished.

Bruce Pastorius, the resident engineer for the California Department of Transportation (Caltrans) on the project, said Tuesday that pile-driving was completed early Tuesday morning on the 40 steel pilings that will support the bridge. Each was driven some 100 feet beneath the surface.

Additional pile-driving work needs to be done in connection with the framework, Pastorius added, but that will be on an intermittent basis and less noisy. That work, like the pile-driving already completed, will be around-the-clock.

However, it will involve only one of the giant "hammers" that create the most noise, not the tow hammers that were used for the just-completed pile-driving. The additional pile-driving should be completed by early Thursday morning, Pastorius said, and that will signify the conclusion of all pile-driving on the project.

The project is between 15 and 20 percent completed, Pastorius said. The contractor will receive a $20,000 bonus for each day it completes the job ahead of schedule, but must pay a $20,000 penalty for each day after May 21 that is required to finish the job.

For a daily update, Sunday through Friday, on the progress of the work on the new bridge and Highway 1 realignment, you may call 624-8904 for a taped Caltrans message.

VALLEY VOICE

Fran Farinal

It was my first time crossing the Carmel River at Highway 1 since the flood took out the bridge. I had intentionally stayed away from the area. With the single-lane bridge, better to leave space for those who really needed to use it.

As I began to drive across, I looked at the river below. It was hard to believe that what was now a quietly flowing river had been so destructive. The construction crew was busy working. Equipment was coming and going. All of this activity to get the new bridge operational before the tourists come for the summer. I wondered about all the people in our area who had been adversely affected. How were they coping?

I went to Big Sur to make a presentation to the Carmel Unified School District Board. Their monthly meeting was being held at Captain Cooper School. It was a peaceful evening with very little traffic on the road. The school is located on a hill above Highway 1. The view is magnificent. If I were a student there, I'd spend all day looking out the window. How can you study with so much natural beauty surrounding you?

The board was generous with their time. They engaged in a discussion about alternatives to the traffic signal at Carmel Middle School which had been suggested by the Carmel Valley Road Improvement Committee. In the end, they voted to communicate with the board of supervisors and request that the matter be continued so they could study these alternatives in more detail.

I have followed up on this action by requesting that Supervisor Karas schedule a meeting with representatives from county Public Works, CUSD, and the road committee. Karas has already rescheduled the traffic signal on the board of supervisors agenda for May 23 at 11 a.m.

On another road matter, the Transportation Agency of Monterey County (TAMC) will hear from a Caltrans representative at their meeting on April 26th. His memo is not encouraging. Caltrans wants to back off on implementation of the operational improvements which will give us an additional westbound lane out of the valley and a climbing lane on Highway 1 from Carmel Valley Road to Morse Drive. Do you ever get the feeling that they like packing us in like sardines in a can? It doesn't seem to matter that traffic at the mouth of the valley has increased by almost 35% since 1987. I was able to get support from the Cypress Fire Protection District for both the operational improvements at Carmel Valley Road and Highway 1 as well as for the Rio Road extension. The Carmel Valley Property Owners Association also took action to support the operational improvements.

We'll just have to continue demanding relief until someone listens to us. Realistically, there are too few dollars to solve all the traffic-related problems in the county. That's why a citizen's committee is reviewing financing options which may ultimately lead to a transportation bond measure. Lee Rieman represents CVPOA and valley interests on the committee. Let's see what solutions they recommend.

WHAT'S NEXT? Mel Vercoe

Wow, the Sherman Anti-trust Act ought to be applied to medical charges. And, now we have a heartworm scare, where dogs should be protected by pills after a simple blood test to make sure the dog isn't already infected. There just has to be collusion to make sure that no kind-hearted veterinarian lowers prices enough so that non-rich people can have their dogs protected. The SPCA, which would like to perform that service at affordable cost, is prohibited by law from doing so. Thanks a lot, whoever in our legislature in Sacramento did that little favor for the industry.

Salt water for coffee? People smart enough to get elected to part-time jobs that pay $1250 per week are definitely not dumb, but I think our supervisors made a mistake a couple of weeks ago, with their unanimous vote to hit every property owner in the Salinas Valley with many years of tax assessments to pay for a $76 million dollar project to keep a handful of Castroville growers supplied with reclaimed sewage water to irrigate their artichokes, not that they have used up all of the fresh water in their area and destroyed, forever, that part of the aquifer.

The rest of us, some of whom don't have $1250 per week part-time jobs, who will be losing our homes, our businesses, and our jobs when seawater hits our faucets in Salinas and pints northward, may have a problem paying the assessments to handle the $76 million debt.

Worse yet, since we're not paying cash for the project, it will be a little more. Counting interest on a long-term loan, something like $170,000. Have a nice day.

LETTERS to the Editor

EDITOR, CARMEL VALLEY SUN

On March 5, Mel Vercoe's letter to The Monterey County Herald appeared in its Letter Box. In it he incorrectly stated the cost of the CIA budget at 28 billion. My letter correcting this statement (CIA's budget is about 10% of the 28 billion, which represents the budgets of the entire U.S. intelligence community) appeared in the Letter Box on March 16. Perhaps Mr. Vercoe missed my response, as he continues to miscite the CIA budget as 28 billion in the ED/op pieces in the March 23 and 30 editions of "The Sun".

As a responsible journalist, I am sure Mr. Vercoe does not intend to mislead his readers and therefore I ask that you print this clarification and that Mr. Vercoe take note of the correct CIA budget figure of about $3 vice $28 billion. N.B. Until my retirement in October, 1994, I was a senior officer of the CIA.

Although the strike was a trying time, it was also very much a learning experience for many of us. We learned a lot about our customers-most of whom showed us complete loyalty. It was not a question of whether they believed in Unions, but that they did believe in us, the clerks and crew. We also learned a lot about our fellow employees. I feel that even though in only a week and a half substantial loss of earnings were felt, it was worth it to me to gain those valuable insights.

We do have a close community. Mid Valley Chevron was kind enough to let us have a key to their restroom during the night as the pickets were up 24 hours a day. John Hannon, Alondra Valdez and Sue at Mailboxes Etc. ran off several hundred flyers. Customers brought us food, sodas, good wishes and did a lot of thumbs-up horn honking as they drove by. All of that kept our spirits up and our resolve strong. We had to fight for our beliefs and our rights and without your support we would not have been able to win.

Thank you very much from the bottom of our hearts for your loyalty. The people of Carmel Valley are the best!

C'mon Fran

I don't know what kind of Ivory Tower Fran Farina is living in to make the comments that she does. Her recent observations on increased truck traffic for flood repair project as a taste of what may come with the proposed dam project, were lame beyond belief. Maybe west of the Village construction impact wasn't too bad - but east of the Village, and particularly in Cachagua, it was a real mess. These big-rigs took 2/3 of both "lanes", and all of the curves - and God help you if you didn't get out of their way.

Don't get me wrong. We in Cachagua appreciated, indeed were amazed, to get any County help at all. Considering that the majority of the Cachagua Road was not just damaged, but GONE, repair was well beyond the scope of local shovels and tractors.

While the road crews are to be commended for a job well done, the impact of these trucks was nothing like the timely precision convoy that Ms. Farina describes. They blasted down the road all day, breaking up more road surface than they repaired, while our small, one-lane bridges literally cracked under their weight.

Fran Farina talks neighborly and "Green", but her actions are just the opposite. As a MPWMD Board member, she supports closed-door sessions with little or no public notice, rather than open display and debate of the facts. She has aided in misinforming the public as to the actual costs and consequences of the God-awful proposed dam, only to perpetuate the MPWMD's position and bloated salary.

Desal has always been far less expensive and infinitely more dependable than dam water, and the public has a right to get the facts on this without fighting a self-serving propaganda campaign by the MPWMD.

Taken in the context of her words vs. her deeds, I find her comments, and her weekly column, revolting.

COURTESY THOUGHTS FROM THE SUN

SHARING OUR BYWAYS & HIGHWAYS

There are precious few through roads in Carmel Valley, Pebble Beach, and the surrounding area. These roads carry precious cargo, people, supplies and services. The safe, courteous use of the roads is vital to our peaceful enjoyment of this very special part of the universe.

There are a few ways in which every one of us who uses these roads may contribute to the overall safety and smooth passage along our byways.

- Leave plenty of room between you and the car in front of you - avoid tailgating.
- Slow down when you are being passed by another car.
- Always be prepared and willing to surrender the "right of way."
- When you are able, stop and give assistance to disabled vehicles or lost tourists.
- Always slow to allow room for "turn-in" traffic from side roads and driveways.
- Slow drivers and sightseers are welcome. Slow drivers and sightseers should, however, pull onto the shoulder and stop to allow the easy passage of through traffic.
- Always think courtesy and cooperation when you drive these precious roads.

Every accident has much more than the direct human and physical damage. Every accident on our few through roads causes a major disruption for thousands of people and businesses. Use our precious roads with grace, concern and care.

REAL ESTATE Rand Smith

CURE FOR "UNSOLDITIS" LIES IN SELLER'S ATTITUDE

Many people have had their homes on the market for some time now.

They are at a loss today. They just don't know what to do. They can't get it sold. Their life plans are on hold. They are in a state of misery. They have a disease. It's 'unsolditis'.

Many people are afraid it's contagious. Real estate agents hear stories such as: "Back in July, my neighbor sold his house for only $135,000 and I wanted to kill him for giving it away. Now, I'd do anything to get that much today... We had our home in escrow twice. One buyer couldn't qualify and the other just changed his mind. In the mean time, I've lowered the price down as far as I can go without just giving it away."

Unsolditis is not a communicable disease. You can't get it from washing your hands in a neighbor's bathroom, for example.

And while some speculate that unsolditis is an infection which spreads throughout the economy, recent studies have indicated that it's a social malady and once properly diagnosed, completely curable. Why then, are there some streets and neighborhoods that are so severely plagued with unsolditis? The answer to that question relates back to just how the disease is spread.

Our research has concluded that the primary cause of unsolditis is an owner's attitude. However, this does not mean that happy owners sell and unhappy owners don't. As a matter of fact, we have seen several cases of very unhappy owners who have successfully sold their homes. The distinction between those who have the disease and those who have discovered the cure seems to lie more with the owners desire to sell. Thus, even in neighborhoods that are severely affected with unsolditis, we see that those owners with the most desire to sell are able to overcome the disease.

Indeed, the more homes left unsold in a given area, the more proof we acquire that an owner's desire will unequivocally cure the sickness. In some ways, it could be said that unsolditis is an invisible disease. In other words, those affected are unaware of their problem. In fact, like a diabetic or an alcoholic, they actually crave that commodity that is most dangerous to their condition. The owner with unsolditis is likely to be in a state of denial, believing that he is normal. The very fact that so many other homes are for sale eases his conscience and contributes to the disease's longevity.

The truth is, the owner who is left with a house unsold is still too sold on the house to let it go. The symptom manifests itself in many ways.

Without checking public records, they believe what they hear about how much a neighbor got for his house. Then, when they find out how little another neighbor got, they blame it on that person's hardship (their divorce or financial demise, etc.). They read good news reports about another state and imagine it relates to here. They believe their home is unique and that their is another person out there who is just like them and will appreciate it.

They select their real estate agent, not on his or her track record, but on how much that agent likes the home. Those affected with unsolditis find many reasons to stay miserable.

The get defensive, even explosive, when confronted with their disease. As a real estate practitioner, my job is to deal with this malady and those affected by it. Recently, they have begun to blame the season. Many of the owners with homes unsold have decided to take the home off the market for the holidays. I try and explain that one sure fire method of NOT getting your home sold is to NOT have it on the market.

University enters second phase of development

The second phase of CSU Monterey Bay's growth and development took a major step forward last week, according to CSUMB President, Dr. Peter Smith.

The Federal Government has approved the new campus' second phase of renovation and reconstruction funding of $14,000,000. Those funds will become available in 1996.

To date, the United States Federal Government has awarded CSU Monterey Bay $29 million towards conversion of Fort Ord into a general campus of the California State University system.

CSU Monterey Bay remains, in the words of Defense Secretary William Perry, Congressman Sam Farr and others, "a model of base conversion." The campus is under constant scrutiny from within the Federal Government, and from other state representatives who use CSU Monterey Bay as a model.

Planning for Phase 1 will not be underway until major construction milestones relating to Phase 1 are completed, according to Stephen Reed, Director of Public Relations and Governmental Affairs at CSUMB.

Carmel Valley

Bo Huang sold to Hugh and Sheila Barton, 9906 Club Place on March 6 for $329,000.

Don Shobert sold to Thomas and Linda Heinemann 34988 Sky Ranch Road on March 7 for $291,000.

Coast Federal Bank sold to John and Mary Tuinenga 25 Lilac Lane on March 7 for $285,000.

$10,000. Emergency housing assistance is available for up to three months while repairs are being made. FEMA assistance programs are not intended to completely replace the entire loss, but offer a shot in the arm to help get the basics taken care of. Homeowners who have flood insurance must avail themselves of those benefits before applying for federal assistance. If lining in a floodplain and receiving FEMA assistance, it will then become a requirement to purchase flood insurance. If this is not done and a future disaster occurs, FEMA will not cover the loss.

Any damage which occurred as a result of the recent storms may be covered. To see whether you may be eligible, call 1-800-462-9029. A supplemental helpline with additional information is 1-800-525-0321. For questions regarding the validity of a contractor, the number for the Contractor's License Board is 1-800-962-1125.

STATE AND FEDERAL DISASTER ASSISTANCE AVAILABLE

The management of a disaster and response to the public's needs is handled on a moment-to-moment basis by the Office of Emergency Services. The federal counterpart, Federal Emergency Management Agency, is alerted once the Governor has declared a state of emergency for certain counties and federal funds are triggered to assist the people impacted. FEMA is there to help in the form of loans, grants and emergency housing funds.

Jerry Ansell of the OES, also representing FEMA, recently answered Monterey County listener's questions as a guest of William L. Smith on his radio show, "Real Estate Today by Pacific Bay", which airs on KNRV 1240 AM on Tuesdays at 5 p.m.

Even homeowners who sustained damages in the January storm are eligible for funds if separate damage occurred in the March storms. FEMA has set up a toll-free tele-registration number, open 8 a.m. to 8 p.m., 1-800-462-9029, with multi-lingual operators available. Once basic registration information is taken by FEMA, a control number is given. An inspector will be dispatched within a few days to survey the damage and transmit the information via satellite to the registration center. In only a matter of days a determination of the amount of damages will be mailed, followed by an assistance check within another week or two.

FEMA would like for those who qualify to apply for a Small Business Administration loan. Those who do not can automatically apply for a grant up to $12,600. If that is still not enough to cover damages, there is a state supplement available up to

Larry Foy of California-American Water Company reported to the board that the Paralta Well project is up and running, although some computer glitches are still being worked out.

Ordinance 75 allows for the reallocation of water saved from retrofit projects on public buildings and was passed by the MPWMD Board and will become effective on May 17, 1995. Water saved from a retrofit project on a public building can now be reallocated to that jurisdiction, minus 15% held by the MPWMD to help them realize their long-term water use reduction goal. In cases where a public building is owned by and located in different jurisdictions, the jurisdictions can work together to determine who will pay for and who will receive the water allocation from the retrofit project.

Ordinance 76 would allow California non-profit organizations to delay payment of connection fees and other charges if the fees would result in financial hardship. Ordinance 76 did not pass with a vote of 3-3; Director Darlene Burkleo was absent. Another vote will be held next month when all board members are present.

The MPWMD board approved the draft map delineating the "Benefit Zone" for the proposed New Los Padres Dam Project. The benefit zone includes several areas not currently under the jurisdiction of the MPWMD including portions of Fort Ord and Seaside. Including these areas in the benefit zone would provide a legal basis for annexing these areas in the future. However, annexation would only be allowed if it would not adversely effect other jurisdictions within the MPWMD.

Patricia Bernardi, Carmel Valley Property Owners Association Board member, approached the MPWMD Board and said that the inclusion of these areas in the benefit zone was not equitable as these areas have not been paying the connection fees, which those within the MPWMD have been paying, and that it is those connection fees which have financed the planning of the Proposed New Los Padres Dam Project. Ms. Bernardi asked if these fees would be charged retroactively and how the MPWMD intended to recover these fees. Ms. Bernardi also echoed MPWMD Chair Fran Farina's concern that the Proposed New Los Padres Dam Project was not designed and sized for the inclusion of these additional areas. The MPWMD approved the distribution of the Benefit Zone map to the 8 jurisdictions within the district and will review the issue again next month.

The next MPWMD meeting will be on May 15 at 7:30 at the Monterey City Council Chambers. The meeting is open to the public.

More donations for flood relief

The Pebble Beach Company, The Gannett Foundation and The Salinas Californian, and Mills Distributing Company are the latest to commit pledges to the Flood Relief 95 Telethon, Wednesday, April 26, to benefit victims of this winter's floods in Monterey County. Donations pledged Thursday evening total $25,000.

Pebble Beach Company President Tom Oliver announced a gift of $10,000. The Pebble Beach Company will also be providing lodging to the headlining stars attending the event, valued at several thousand dollars, and will be a $4,000 sponsor of the three-hour live broadcast on KSBW-8.

The Gannett Foundation and The Salinas Californian pledged a gift of $10,000. Publisher Michael Chihak said, "We are part of the community and this is one way of responding. The Californian not only supplies important news coverage, but corporate is responding too."

Mills Distributing Company, a Salinas-based grower and shipper of vegetables, contributed $5,000 and will match all contributions from its employees.

Earlier this week, Granite Construction Company announced an immediate gift of $5,000. In addition, it has approved matching contributions, up to $20,000 from any corporation, private foundation, civic organization or individual. Contact Dave Watts at 724-1011.

Other contributions made this week include Monterey County Bank ($5,000), First National Bank of Central California ($5,000), Cannery Row Company ($5,000), PG&E ($10,000) and the Catherine L. and Robert O. McMahan Foundation ($10,000). The Community Foundation for Monterey County is the fiscal agent for the telethon and the goal is $1 million dollars.
